Enduring Beauty

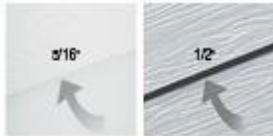

When you choose Deluxe aluminum siding for your home, you're protecting it with the high-performance properties of aluminum as well as a resilient LoMar polyester coating. Combined, these elements will stand up strong to all types of weather, including intense heat, cold, rain and snow.

Built Weather-Tough!

Deluxe aluminum siding is performance-engineered to shield your home from outdoor elements, such as harsh winds and water, and other destructive weather. Unlike wood, compressed particle board or fiber cement, Deluxe aluminum siding won't absorb moisture.

Added Dimension

The extra-deep 1/2" butt height of Deluxe aluminum siding adds greater dimension and style with dramatic shadow lines.

Superior Finished Look

While fiber cement and compressed particle boards typically require caulked joints, Deluxe aluminum siding's "seams" are crisp and clean.
